Ford decision on tax bill to be announced tonight

Jurors to hear charges of payroll irregularities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Franklin County grand jury will begin hearing testimony Tuesday on charges that former Democratic campaign workers who got state jobs after the November election failed to report for work.

Franklin County Prosecutor George C. Smith, a Republican, said Friday the investigation had focused on hiring and payroll practices in the Departments of Industrial Relations and Taxation and the Bureau of Motor Vehicles. He said the records of about 25 state employees were being scrutinized to determine whether fraud was committed against the state.

Smith said several Ohio Highway Patrol investigators would testify Tuesday "on matters relating to irregularities in payrolls in some state departments."

The announcement marked the first grand jury action since Smith outlined the case for the panel on Feb. 18.

The 16-member panel is expected to recess after proceedings Tuesday and return the following week to hear testimony from state employees, according to Smith's office. The prosecutor has agreed to immunity for at least two witnesses.

Although no subpoenas have been issued, Smith said he planned to seek testimony from state officials, including "those in authority who were responsible for the hiring."

Smith has indicated that he expects to interrogate several key figures in the administration of former Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan. They included Gilligan's former executive assistant John E. Hansen, ex-administrative services director Joseph E. Sommer and campaign manager Eugene P. O'Grady.

Democratic Lt. Gov. Richard Celeste, who is not believed to be a central figure in the case, sparked the controversy last month with the disclosure that he had placed five campaign workers with state agencies. Celeste contended the aides were involved in legitimate state business — his transition into office — but he conceded they did not regularly report to their assigned jobs.

The Department of Industrial Relations withheld a paycheck from a Celeste aide assigned to the agency and subsequently announced it was investigating about 20 "phantom" employees, mostly former Democratic campaign workers hired after the election.

The Department of Taxation made similar allegations about nine employees, several of whom, according to published reports, worked on Gilligan's recount effort while on state time.

Smith would not say whether any indictments would be forthcoming.

Broadcast address set at 7:30 p.m.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford will tell the nation tonight whether he plans to sign or veto the $24.8-billion, tax-cut bill.

The President has scheduled a nationwide television and radio address at 7:30 p.m. EDT in which Press Secretary Ron Nessen said the President will discuss the tax-cut measure and other, broader economic matters.

Nessen said Ford is expected to speak for 10 to 15 minutes.

An hour after the address, President and Mrs. Ford will leave for a nine-day Easter holiday in Palm Springs, Calif. The working vacation will include four business and speechmaking side trips.

Ford has been conferring with his top economic policy advisers for three days about the controversial tax bill, which contains the largest tax cut voted by Congress in 30 years.

The President on Thursday asked the advisers to put their recommendations in writing. A White House source said all had been received by Friday afternoon and "there was no consensus of opinion."

Nessen hinted Friday night that the President still had not made up his mind when he reported Ford "is deciding what to do."

The President had urged Congress for weeks to enact quickly a tax cut to fight the recession. He recommended a $16-billion cut, but the bill shaped by the Democratic majorities in the House and Senate is much larger.

Nessen said Ford told his advisers the bill contained "some good things and some very bad things," and said his decision would be a "tough call."

Most Republican congressional leaders urged the President to veto the bill, contending the tax reduction is too large and the measure has too many unsatisfactory amendments. House Minority Leader John J. Rhodes predicted Thursday there would be a veto.

Nessen said Ford is confident that a veto would be sustained by Congress, which passed the bill Wednesday night before starting an Easter recess.

Budget Director James T. Lynn said, "If you take the rescissions and deferrals the Congress has refused to go along with, the increased size of the tax bill, and spending bills which are steaming along the track, the budget deficit for 1976 will be $100 billion."

Under new legislation, President Ford has attempted to trim spending by proposing rescissions or deferrals of congressionally approved appropriations, but Congress has rejected most of these.

Because of the threat of a huge federal deficit, conservatives in the Republican party have advised a veto. A few moderates and liberals in both parties have joined in warning that the tax cut is so large it will fuel inflation.

Other White House sources said it could be political suicide for Ford, who plans to run for a full presidential term next year, to veto the bill. They say that lower taxes are popular with the public, which has come to expect some kind of tax relief.

PUCO probe head named

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Robert E. O'Shaughnessy, D-15 Columbus, has been named to head the Senate wing of a special legislative committee that will investigate the ratemaking operation of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

The Senate approved a House-passed resolution last Wednesday, mandating the 16-member joint committee to study the availability and expense of fuels to Ohio utilities and the relationship to consumer costs. The committee is to return to the General Assembly with recommendations by Oct. 15.

Legislative leaders will appoint five Democrats and three Republicans from each house over the next two weeks.

O'Shaughnessy's appointment Friday as vice chairman was the first announced by Senate President Pro Tem Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron.

"The 111th General Assembly is committed to the search for meaningful responses to Ohio's energy program," the Columbus lawmaker said.

ON THE BANKS OF PAINT CREEK — This auto, driven by Daniel O. Parks, 20, Rt. 5, slid along over 600 feet of guardrail on U.S. 62 and struck a fence and two Ohio Bell telephone poles before traveling down this embankment and coming to rest by Paint Creek. The Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported Parks unhurt in the mishap, which occurred early Saturday morning. He was cited for failure to drive on the right half of the roadway.

Six dead, 87 hurt

Storms, twister hammer nation

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms rumbled across the lower Mississippi Valley and into the Ohio Valley today, following more heavy rains and a tornado that left six dead and 87 injured in Arkansas.

Light snow lingered in parts of the snow-laden northern Plains, but the winds died down. And much of the region from northeastern Colorado through the Dakotas faced an Easter weekend of digging out from a prolonged March blizzard and counting livestock losses.

The southeastern Arkansas city of Warren was sealed off by National Guardsmen who patrolled debris-littered streets after a Friday night tornado. Three city blocks were damaged extensively, and guardsmen searched homes for missing and others injured.

Another twister touched down at El Dorado, Ark., near the Louisiana line and damaged some homes. There were no reports of injuries there. A tornado also dipped into an area east of Oxford, Miss., damaging two mobile homes, but no one was injured.

Nearly 4 inches of rain drenched Dyersburg and Paris, Tenn., in 24 hours, and more than 4 inches fell in Union City, Tenn. Up to 8 inches swamped parts of Arkansas in two days. Flash-flood watches were in effect in parts of Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky and Indiana.

Thirty families were forced from their homes at Batesville, in northern Arkansas, by the flooding White River. Several families also were evacuated from flooded areas of West Memphis, Ark.

Two persons were missing and believed drowned in the rain-swollen Obion River near Dyersburg, Tenn.

The Mississippi River, already out of its banks but receding, began to rise again at Memphis. Forecasters expected worsened flooding as a result of the heavy rains and the melting of snow in the North.

Up to 2 feet of snow piled up in some areas of the upper Midwest and Plains during the week, and winds of 60 and 70 miles per hour heaped it into huge drifts.

The Nebraska State Patrol said Interstate 80 was open throughout the state but many other roads in western counties remained closed late Friday.

In South Dakota, Gov. Richard Kneip declared a disaster situation, permitting use of state equipment and resources by local governments for their emergencies.

Livestock losses, while generally undetermined, were expected to be heavy. In northeastern Colorado alone, 2,000 freshly shorn sheep were found dead in one feedlot, 8,000 frozen turkeys in another.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 5 at Laramie, Wyo., to 76 at Brownsville, Tex., and Key West, Fla.

Easter celebrations getting under way

By The Associated Press

Christians and Jews were gathered in the holy places of Jerusalem this weekend for Easter and Passover. Israeli security patrols guarded against violence after the explosion of two bombs.

In Rome, Pope Paul VI called for the remembrance of those still suffering because of war and "political or civil conflicts."

Two small time-bombs wired to wristwatches exploded in Jerusalem Friday, wounding 13 persons. One went off in a crowded bus but the second one placed in a shopping bag in Zion Square was spotted and police cleared the street before it exploded.

Pope Paul, who reduced his Holy Week schedule last year because of ill health, carried a heavy wooden cross in the Good Friday Way of the Cross procession on Rome's Palatine Hill. The 77-year-old pontiff took up the cross for more than 20 minutes and appeared to move with ease despite the chilly night air.

He then told a crowd of thousands gathered near the Coliseum in Rome that Christ's suffering on the cross could be known by "all who, still today, are suffering because of conflicts of war or because of political or civil conflicts."

At the Good Friday service in St. Peter's Basilica in Vatican City, the Pope wore simple red robes of mourning without the pontifical ring or other gems. Some 10,000 persons attended the service, as the pontiff knelt three times, prostrated himself and kissed the cross.

The Way of the Cross procession in Jerusalem followed a tangle of alleyways cutting through the old Arab city, with peddlers offering wooden crucifixes, soft drinks, post cards and even imitation cowboy hats.

The final station was the Sepulchre, a marble tomb under the high dome of the Crusader Church of the Holy Sepulchre.

"Here, Jesus is stripped of His garments and offered gall to Drink," a Roman Catholic priest told hundreds of pilgrims standing around him. "He is nailed to the cross and dies and His body is taken down."

Police reported there were fewer people in the Good Friday procession than last year, but they declined to speculate if that was because of the fear of terrorist attacks.

The Israeli Ministry for Tourism said 11,500 visitors arrived in the Holy Land for the Easter and Passover celebrations compared to 9,000 last year.

THEY'RE OFF — At the sound of the Fayette County Sheriff's cruiser siren, the rope went up, releasing the fervor of the over 150 kids who braced chilling weather Saturday for the annual Washington C.H. Moose Lodge

Easter egg hunt. A portion of the turnout is pictured stampeding to every crevice and loose sod in search of prize winning Easter eggs.

Egg hunt draws good crowd despite weather

Over 150 area children turned out for the annual Washington C.H. Moose Lodge Easter egg hunt Saturday morning on the Fayette County Fairgrounds, despite freezing temperatures and the muddy condition of the grounds.

Members of the Moose Lodge and its women's auxiliary boiled and colored 110 dozen eggs for the hunt and issued over $155 for prize money, given away to those finding a plastic egg worth anywhere from 25 cents to $3.

According to John Creed, chairman of this year's Easter egg hunt, a lucky number inside one of the plastic eggs denoted the grand prize of a large Easter basket filled with candy. George Greenlee was the winner of the basket.

Other winners included: $3 eggs — Crystal Lewis, Mike Winters and Lewis Ary, who walked away with two $3 eggs; $2 eggs — Robin Wilson, Terri Ingram, Liza Winters, Bobby Vandyne, Crystal Lewis, Danny Joseph, Martin Frederick, William Pendergraft, and Sherry Havens; $1 eggs — J.J. Underwood, DeeAnn Denen, George Greenlee with three $1 eggs, Becky Queen, Lloyd Ary, Martin Frederick, Candy Wilt, Rosetta Rhoads, Jill Jones, Travis Anderson, Paul Clickner, Robbie Hedrick, Roxy Paul, Ronnie Ward, Roger Zimmerman and Teresa Anthony.

American firms joining boycott?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi says the Justice Department is gathering factual information on whether U.S. companies are participating in an Arab boycott of firms with ties to Israel.

"In my view an agreement among separate firms doing business in the United States not to deal with a third firm would raise serious antitrust questions," he told members of Congress in a letter released Friday.

The letter was in response to a request signed by 137 members of Congress for such an investigation.

Da Nang reported critical

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — The Saigon military command said today North Vietnamese forces had begun firing hundreds of rockets and artillery shells into the vicinity of the air base, naval base and the South Vietnamese army headquarters in Da Nang, a city crammed with a half million refugees.

The Viet Cong delegation in Saigon announced earlier that their forces, "led by civilian residents," were attacking South Vietnamese government positions inside the northern coastal city.

Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, chief spokesman for the Saigon military command, said there was no fighting inside the city but that battles had broken out in an arc three to six miles to the west and south of the city.

A United States airlift to rescue civilians from Da Nang apparently collapsed.

One U.S. civilian jetliner landed at Da Nang during the day but its pilot said 400 South Vietnamese soldiers, pushing past civilians, forced their way aboard the 727 aircraft and flew in it to Saigon, despite a wing damaged by gunfire and a rear ramp hanging open. One soldier perished in the plane's undercarriage as he tried to crawl into the cargo department.

Two other planes turned back after receiving reports of chaos and firing at Da Nang.

South Vietnamese spokesman Hien said the shelling attacks at Da Nang began about 8 p.m. Friday and were heavy but tapered off just before dawn Saturday.

He said he had no reports on casualties or damage.

He said the fighting broke out when South Vietnamese infantrymen on patrol ran up against North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces edging closer to the city, the last government stronghold in the entire northern sector.

Search begins here for new beef queen

By JOHN P. GRUBER
County Extension Agent, Agriculture
The Fayette County Cattlefeeders began their annual search for the County's Queen of Beef this week. The queen contest will be held April 11 at the Terrace Lounge along with the annual cattlefeeders ladies night.

Fayette County gals who are eligible are encouraged to secure an entry blank and participate in this year's contest. To be eligible, contestants must reside on a farm where beef is produced or have a beef project in 4-H or FFA. Contestants must be unmarried and age 16 to 20 as of January 1, 1975. Each contestant must submit an essay on "The Importance of Beef Consumer Education".

Selection of the queen will be based on poise and personality, participation in school and community activities, and contents of her essay. Entry forms and rules for the contest are available at the Extension Office or from any director of the Cattlefeeders Association.

LAST WEEKEND'S Ohio Dorset Show and Sale was a successful venture for several local individuals. The Phil Grover family exhibited the reserve champion ram. This ram lamb turned out to be the sale topper at $1,300. Dave Ogan sold the second highest ram for $1,100. Miami Trace FFA chapter captured honors in the judging contest. Team members were Chris Garland, Jeff Wilt, and Jim McCoy. Christ and Jeff also tied as second high individuals in the contest. Our congratulations to these folks!

The Dorset Show and Sale is just another example of the many major livestock events staged at the Fayette County Fairgrounds. Already plans are underway for the National Summer Spotlight of the Chester White Association to be held here July 7-9, 1975.

PLANTING TIME is just around the corner. This brings to mind some concerns for pesticide safety. A recent chemical newsletter which came across my desk served as a good reminder. Keep in mind that the aspirin theory can give you a headache if used to determine pesticide rate of application. Don't think that twice the recommended rate will do a better job. Rates of pesticide application are determined through detailed research. Follow the label for safety and best results.

APRIL 14, 6:30 p.m. is the time for the Ohio Production Tested bull sale. The place is the Wilmington Producers Livestock sale barn. About 80 production tested bulls will be offered for sale. Give me a call for more details. It looks like a good place to secure a herd bull for some of you folks with commercial beef cow herds.

4-H AND FFA members looking for lamb projects keep in mind the annual Lamb Prospects Sale sponsored by the Fayette County Shepherds Club April 25, 7:30 p.m., at the Fayette County Fairgrounds is the time and place. Approximately 125 lambs will be offered for sale.

Sheep producers planning to consign lambs to the sale are reminded that entries are due in the Extension Office by Friday, April 11. Lambs should be in the 40-60 pound weight range for the sale.

Inventory of sheep low

WASHINGTON (AP) — The inventory of sheep and lambs in feedlots as of March 1 continued to lag below year-earlier levels, but there are signs that some producers are counting on some improvement in the slaughter market this spring.

According to Agriculture Department surveys of feedlots in seven major producing states, about 667,000 sheep and lambs were being fed for slaughter as of March 1. That was down 25 per cent from a year earlier.

But the department's Crop Reporting Board also found that producers in those states placed 331,000 new sheep and lambs in fattening pens during January and February, a boost of 24 per cent from the first two months of 1974.

Prices of slaughter lambs have been around $39 to $41 per 100 pounds recently, up sharply from a year ago when they averaged in the range of $34 to $38 per hundredweight at the major markets.

Each year, Canada's meat packers handle more than three billion pounds of meat.

MIDDLE SCHOOL CONSERVATIONISTS — Each of the seven students above created the poster judged best in his sixth grade class at the Washington Middle School. The posters represented ideas on soil and water conservation and were judged by a committee of employees of the Fayette Soil and Water Conservation District. Each of the first-place winners received $3 from the district office. They were, standing (left to right), Jane Sollars, Nancy Binzel, Jeff Phillips, and John Wilson; holding posters, Gale Eakins, Juanita Jones and Roger Kearns.

Poster winners honored

Sixth graders at the Washington Middle School have completed work on their soil and water conservation posters and the winners have been recognized by the Fayette Soil and Water Conservation District.

Leonard Watts, district technician, and Mrs. Barbara Garringer, district secretary, visited the school to present cash awards to the winners in each of the seven participating classes.

Mrs. Garringer explained that the poster project has been an annual event for several years. Members of the district association presented programs on conservation at the school some weeks ago. They brought slides of conservation projects, and before and after pictures of various areas where pollution controls had been implemented.

Each student was given an opportunity to use a theme from one of the slides or create his own idea for the poster, Mrs. Garringer said. Some of the teachers made the poster project part of their science class program.

Watts and Mrs. Garringer said the teachers have been very cooperative concerning the program, and most of the students find the presentations very interesting. The younger students seem to become excited about the program and very involved in conservation. "The program has been very rewarding to us," Mrs. Garringer said.

The Fayette Soil and Water Conservation District awarded $3 to the student who presented the best poster in each class. Second place received $2, and third place, $1. Ribbons were awarded to the first six places in each room.

The first place winners were Gale Eakins, Juanita Jones, Roger Kearns, Jane Sollars, Nancy Binzel, Jeff Phillips and John Wilson.

Second and third places respectively in each room were: John Everhart and Craig Maddux (Mrs. Lynne Anthony's class); Shelly Copeland and Teresa Whittier (Kirk Thompson); Maribeth Cleary and Dodd Dove (Mrs. Claudia Coe); Given Lee and Mary Whittier (Mrs. Rita Pierce); Rick Wessinger and Rick Massie (Sam Forsythe);

Down On The Farm

Washington C. H. (O.) Record-Herald - Page 3

Cautious crop prediction issued

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government farm experts, who were burned a year ago when they predicted bumper grain crops, now cautiously say that farmers could harvest record 1975 crops of wheat and corn if the weather cooperates.

If farmers get good weather, the Agriculture Department said Tuesday, wheat production could range between 2.02 billion and 2.23 billion bushels, compared with a record last year of less than 1.8 billion bushels.

But a year ago, using the same assumptions, the USDA said the 1974 wheat crop could hit 2.2 billion bushels. Severe weather, however, trimmed the yields.

The 1975 corn crop, officials said, could range between 5.75 billion bushels and 6.4 billion bushels. The record was 5.64 billion in 1973.

A year ago, with the same good-weather assumptions, the USDA projected 1974 corn production at 6.7 billion bushels. The crop turned out at less than 4.8 billion bushels.

But USDA officials say it is not likely that 1975 will bring a repeat of last year's foul weather, which included a late spring, summer drought and early frosts last fall. Crop yields, officials say, are likely to resume normal trends.

Thus, the department's Outlook and Situation Board said, record harvests this year would mean a build-up in national grain reserves by the time 1976 crops are ready. For example, if 1975 record harvests materialize, the corn stockpile by Oct. 1, 1976, could be between 657 million and 860 million bushels, compared with 360 million bushels expected on hand next fall.

The mid-1975 wheat reserve, assuming a record harvest this year, could be between 435 million and 460 million bushels on July 1, 1976. The carryover this summer is expected to be 250 million bushels.

Letters to the editor

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

In a recent article published by your newspaper titled "Fur trapping faces hard times" prompts me to write this letter. The article is about a bill introduced by Rep. Mike Stinziano of Columbus to ban the leg hold traps.

Being a trapper myself I would like to tell some of my experience with the leg hold trap, which was the only kind I ever used. They had other kinds of traps on the market then, but they were often more expensive, bulkier to carry, harder to cock the trigger mechanism and harder to set for the fur bearing animal.

The trap I'm talking about is the instant kill type. The trap crushes the animal to death instantly. We lined close to a small run where I once trapped. I caught my pet cat in one of my traps. I set him free. He lost only a few toes on one foot. Instead of his life. Because if I had been using the instant kill trap he would have been dead. Accidents happen in all forms of everyday life, whether it be sports, driving a car, or working in a factory.

Critics call the leg hold trap cruel, and inhuman. They say animals chew their legs off and then limp off to die. I have caught many a muskrat which had one or two feet off. A trapper once told me he caught a muskrat that had only one foot. Often inexperienced young trappers don't set the trap properly in deep enough water to drown them so the muskrat twists his leg off, but this does not mean he always dies as the critics say. Mr. Stinziano's bill, if passed, would permit only instant kill traps such as the conibear types, deadfalls or snare type, which, if a pit accidentally ventured into one he would lose his life instead of a few toes or a foot.

On the late news recently they showed a dog who was caught in a leg hold steel trap. He had chewed his leg off trying to get free. They were taking him around to show school children, but they failed to mention the obvious as he was alive and healthy even with only three legs.

This winter I saw two young boys running their trapline along Paint Creek in the city limits, the same place where I started trapping. I was fourteen years old at the time. I felt good to see those boys were enjoying the outdoor sport when they might otherwise have been less constructively occupied.

Critics say they are not against trapping. I say this is the first step to eliminate trapping entirely. This is nothing new. Critics have been trying to stop hunting for years. The hunter is more organized than the trapper, and larger in number, but I pray he will survive and continue the heritage that is as old as America itself.

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

In April, 1973, Governor Gilligan issued two executive orders — one creating 15 planning regions (we were a part of area six), and the other creating 11 service districts.

You will be interested to know that Governor Rhodes, in an executive order dated Feb. 28, rescinded both of the abovementioned orders.

The governor further states in his order "Local Officials who have agreed to form a multi-jurisdictional regional planning and development organization, may, at their option, petition the State of Ohio for recognition as a regional planning and development organization." This simply means that Fayette County and the other seven counties of planning area six now have an option rather than a mandate.

Although no executive order is involved, I am of the opinion that the Final Report of The Ohio Commission on Local Government Services will not soon be implemented.

This is the report in which (page 30) the Commission recommended "streamlining functional responsibilities through conversion of the elected county coroner and county engineer to appointed departments and eliminating the county treasurer, combining those responsibilities with the office of an elected county auditor."

It was further stated that the transfer of the functions of county treasurer to the auditor would not be expected to result in reduced costs.

A minority report of this same Commission recommended elimination of elective posts of Clerk of Courts, County Recorder, Sheriff, Auditor and Prosecuting Attorney and the transfer of their duties to appointed officers.

We must remain vigilant.

Fireman commutes from 800 miles

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Lt. Harold J. Colen finishes a long day's work at the San Francisco Fire Department's Engine Company 21 and then heads for home 800 miles away in Yuma, Ariz.

The fire chief says it's "unbelievable" and the head of the firefighters' union says "there's something wrong" when a city firefighter lives so far from his work.

Two months ago, Colen moved to Arizona to be near his son, Mike, who is stationed there with the Army. Colen kept his $19,300-a-year firefighter's job and commutes 1,600 miles to work a 24-hour shift once or twice a week.

There is no direct flight to Yuma, which is about 650 miles from San Francisco, so Colen must fly 800 miles each way via Phoenix. Roundtrip airfare is nearly $200.

Fire Chief Keith Calden estimates that half of the department's 1,776 employees live outside the city.

Most San Francisco firemen have two to four days off between 24-hour stints.

"It seems unbelievable to me," Calden said when told of Colen's lengthy commute.

"I would agree 1,000 per cent that there's something wrong" if a member of the San Francisco Fire Department is living out of state, said firefighters' union president Jim Ferguson.

Colen has apparently decided to move back to the city.

"He felt he couldn't do the job properly living in Yuma," said son Mike. "He'll live with my sister in the city and come down here every few months to visit."

Colen, who was not available for comment, has been a firefighter here for 24 years. He was cited for heroism in 1969.

The city used to require firemen to live inside its limits, but a new state law eliminated residency requirements. City supervisors have scheduled hearings on a proposal to require policemen and firemen to live within a reasonable range of San Francisco.

Calden said residency limitations are set so that men will be available quickly in case of a major conflagration. The number of firefighters living within a reasonable distance of the city could affect the city's fire insurance rates, he said.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

It's no joke to be in love with a rapist

DEAR ABBY: I am a 22-year-old attractive and well-built woman. I've never had any problem getting dates. A strange thing happened to me last month one evening, walking home from my job. I have a habit of cutting through a nearby back yard. One night, a young man approached me and raped me! I debated that whole night and next day about going to the police. I decided against it, because I had heard that it is a very humiliating experience for the victim, and the police never seem to catch the man anyway.

Well, the next night, the same thing happened! Abby, to be honest, this was the best sexual experience I have ever had. Well, this has become a habit to meet him just about every night. Although we never talk, I think I am falling in love.

He hasn't shown up for four nights now and I am going crazy. I'm afraid he's found somebody else. What should I do?

HOPELESSLY HOOKED

DEAR HOOKED: You and the rest of the boys at that fraternity house in Palo Alto should consider creative writing classes. And of all the situations to make jokes about-rape is the least funny, to which thousands of women can attest.

DEAR ABBY: I have just finished consoling my very heartbroken little eight-year-old son who came home from school today, very, very upset. It seems that one of the boys in his class passed out written invitations to his birthday party next Saturday, and my son and three other children were not invited. (The other 41 children in the class were invited.)

My son told me that the children who had been invited taunted those who were not invited.

Abby, there was no question of money involved here-only lack of feelings. I wonder if that boy's mother has any idea of how cruel this was?

I've always insisted that my children invite the whole class when they have a large party, so that nobody is left out. Am I wrong?

WISCONSIN MOM

DEAR MOM: No, you're right. It's terribly humiliating for a youngster to be excluded from a party to which most of his classmates have been invited. At party-giving time, mothers should urge their children to be kind and generous, and allow no child to be hurt by such a cruel omission.

DEAR ABBY: "Made My Plans" insists that she wants to donate her body to medical science, and have the rest cremated. Her daughter, on learning this, said: "No way, Mother. I will not have you cut up and cremated!" And you, Dear Abby, agreed that the mother's wishes should be carried out "as soon as she was."

I am in sympathy with the daughter. May I ask "Made My Plans" if she has considered the fact that her daughter is the one who has to continue living with the thought, abhorrent to many, that her mother's body was mutilated, then destroyed?

Someone very close to me has given up her wishes for cremation because she knows how strongly I feel about it. I think the mother is very selfish not to realize that her daughter may endure mental suffering if she (the mother) goes through with her plan.

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA.

DEAR ST. P.: "Made My Plans" had made provisions to donate her eyes, kidneys (and any other usable parts of her body) to give sight and possibly life to another. The "mutilation" you imagine is no more extensive than some surgery which the living survive. It is because "Made My Plans" has a genuine concern for the living that she made the plans she did. Her daughter should understand and accept this.

You are entitled to your opinion, but I'm with "Made My Plans." (P.S. I've made mine, too.)

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

SUNDAY, MARCH 30

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Avoid tendencies toward emotionalism, impatience with obstacles. You have no opponents so strong they can't be handled with persuasiveness and good will.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Your Venus, fairly auspicious, now stimulates creativity and intuition. You should have a fulsome day if you don't fret over imaginary obstacles.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

Avoid making hasty decisions. Look more closely into all situations. There may be values not seen at a cursory glance.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

A stimulating day! Stellar aspects give new impetus to all worthwhile undertakings. Especially favored: family interests, community projects, travel.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Distant interests take the spotlight. You may now be able to take a trip that was postponed or you may hear some excellent news from afar.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Your intuition at a peak. A good day for backing your hunches with zestful, optimistic performance. Travel and romance especially favored.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Keep emotions under control and do not make drastic or needless changes on the spur of the moment. Be especially careful in romantic involvements.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Fine stellar influences spur incentive, stimulate good ideas — many of which will be distinctly novel. Capitalize on all during this good period.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

An unusual request deserves your consideration. Fulfilling it may involve some inconvenience, but you will be amply repaid. Late hours bring some surprising news.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Day should prove stimulating in many ways, many areas. One of your more casual interests will now take on added importance.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Don't be disappointed if a planned trip is called off. It could be for the best. Evening social activities promise to be lively.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

You may be attracted to an individual who seems aloof, indifferent. Making a gesture of friendship could prove to be an important move in changing the situation.

YOU BORN TODAY have been endowed with a fine mind, unusual versatility and almost boundless ambition. On the minus side, however, you are inclined to be selfish, overly aggressive and intensely stubborn. Also, you put too much value on material considerations in mapping out your goals. Try to curb these traits since they only stand in the way of your progress. And you have so much going for you that it would be a shame if you allowed such negative characteristics to offset the value of your many talents. So many fields are open to you that you may have difficulty in choosing but, once you have found your proper niche in life, there are no limits to the heights you can attain. You could succeed in business or the law — which may lead to statesmanship; could also be an outstanding actor, writer, musician or entertainer. Fashion design and interior decorating also appeal to you.

MONDAY, MARCH 31

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Don't give up on a pet project because it seems to lack luster. Try a novel twist in approach — to restore incentive and get going again.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Your judgment a bit cloudy now, so make no major decisions and above all, don't launch any new undertakings. Stick with the familiar.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

Adjustments, revisions, quick changes may be the order of the day. Take all in stride. Distribute energies judiciously; don't argue where tact, finesse will win.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Do not let a personal disappointment mar your overall perspective. Continue to aim for high goals. Your adeptness, know-how and intuition should be potent now.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Your morale should get a boost now. Some new light is shed on old problems and you find more persons responding to your efforts. A brighter outlook indicated.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

A new approach to a business matter advised. Look beyond the immediate situation. Potential is greater than you may imagine.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Not a good day in which to speculate, but a fine one in which to seek information regarding future investments.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Stellar influences encourage more of the grit and ingenuity that won laurels for you in the past. This will be a good day for innovations.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

The spotlight is now on your material interests. Indications are that you will receive something of value — and in an entirely unexpected manner.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Emphasis is on ACTION. You can now go ahead with plans conceived last week, expanding your interests considerably.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Where there's a difference of opinion in a job situation, negotiate rather than argue. Realize that you have the necessary backing and act accordingly.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

A good word from the right source may enable you to gain the recognition you have been waiting for. Business and financial matters highly favored.

YOU BORN TODAY are a quick-thinking, enthusiastic individual, endowed with tremendous vitality and initiative. Aries is a Sign of both creativity and practicality, so you can be equally adept in a business enterprise or in an artistic career. You are gregarious, outgoing in personality and a born leader and organizer. In choosing a career, many fields are open to you, but your most outstanding successes would probably be achieved in the worlds of politics, literature, the theater, art or music.

Plastic beer bottle tested

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Vistron Corp. is test-marketing in England a plastic beer bottle said to be shatter-resistant and substantially lighter than a comparable glass container.

Vistron said it has sold a resin it developed that's known by the trade name Borex to Plastona Ltd. of Leeds, England, a plastics convertor, which designed a bottling system for Bass Charrington, a London brewer.

Bass Charrington will offer two brands of beer in the new bottles in Southampton grocery stores and pubs through April to determine consumer reaction.

The bottle has been redesigned in a cup-or mug-like shape, including a slotted, sculptured base and a wide top sealed by an aluminum lid with a pull-tab opening.

Air conditioners, energy-gobblers

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A Case Western Reserve University professor says an air conditioner that is electrically efficient can save enough to cover its purchase in a few years, compared with operating costs of one less efficient.

But Dr. B. Samuel Tanenbaum, professor of electrical engineering and coordinator of Case Western's energy research, also says air conditioners use more electricity than any other item in a typical home or apartment, averaged over a year.

Tanenbaum said in a recent interview that the efficiency achieved in air conditioners is much less than what theory indicates is possible. Public demand for the most efficient units should encourage manufacturers to increase the units' efficiency in future models for competitive advantage, he added.

Ice skating's origins go back at least 5,000 years. Archeologists have found animals' bones apparently used as skates during the Bronze Age in Pannonia, an area that is now in Hungary and Yugoslavia.

THE ULTIMATE FARM MACHINE
TO INCREASE SEED POTENCY AND CROP YIELDS

For years men have tried to improve their yields by helping nature "feed" her crops... they've fertilized, cultivated, irrigated, hybridized, herbicided, and rotated sources for plant life: the soil and the sun.

But until now there have been only two energy sources for plant life: the soil and the sun. Now, science has discovered how to use a third energy source to hasten growth and increase yields... Electro-magnetic energy.

This energy, applied to plants by the Ultimate farm machine—the Enagizer—brings about more rapid germination, earlier emergence, larger root systems, stronger plants, earlier maturity, and big yield increases.

A limited supply of Enagizers are now available. For more information contact:

Esther Circle meets

Mrs. Howard Burnett was hostess when the Esther Circle of the Jeffersonville United Methodist Church met in her new country home. Mrs. Marvin Stockwell opened the meeting and Miss Margaret Binegar called the roll, which members answered with an Easter poem, prayer or Scripture. Mrs.

Marvin Stockwell was the assisting hostess.

Reports were made from the treasury by Mrs. Rowena Cummins, Mrs. Mae Booco of the 'sunshine fund', and Mrs. Fred DeMent for the 'least coin' offering. Cards were signed for members of the church, and the following dates for activities planned were announced: April 2 a carry-in dinner at 12:30 p.m. at the church for United Methodist Women; April 5 a house cleaning at the church; April 12 the Retreat at Lancaster; April 15 the group will provide pies and cookies for the Blood Bank at Grace United Methodist Church; April 18 the trip to Cincinnati to the Red's ballgame; and April 30 the mother-daughter banquet at the church, for which tickets are now available from any circle member.

The theme for the annual M-D banquet will be "I Believe in Music, I Believe in Love."

A report of the District Meeting held at Grace Church was made. Mrs. DeMent presented the program topic, "Easter," and told of how the tradition of Easter originated and in what countries. She read a poem by Helen Steiner Rice for the closing. Eight members made a 'tour' of the home following the meeting.

Garden Club guest speaker

Town and Country Garden Club members met at Anderson's Restaurant with Mrs. Gerald Stephenson and Mrs. David Krupla as hostesses.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Dwight Duff, who read an appropriate poem entitled "Antidote." The secretary and treasurer's reports were given by Mrs. John Stimpert.

Mrs. Duff reported on the tour March 13 to the Ohio Historical Society Museum and the French Market which was enjoyed by several of the members and their guests.

A letter from Mrs. Edna Naylor of the Fayette County Senior Nutrition Program was read and members voted to contribute "white elephant" gifts to the program.

Mr. Jerry Cremeans, Fayette County Game Protector, was introduced. He showed a very interesting and colorful film entitled "Birds of Prey." At the conclusion of the film, he answered many questions and distributed literature for all the members.

At the conclusion of the program, refreshments were enjoyed. The next meeting will be April 23, in the home of Mrs. Roger Rapp, with Mrs. Paul Thompson as co-hostess. A bulb and seed sale will be a feature of the April meeting.

Homemakers meeting topic 'Nutritional Labeling'

Mrs. Kenneth Bush was hostess when the Concord Homemakers Club met in her home Thursday. Assisting hostess was Mrs. Lorain Morter and Mrs. Robert Case gave the invocation.

"Nutritional Labeling" was the topic of Mrs. Gladys Kirk, who also showed slides and commented on purchasing canned food items, micro-wave ovens, and crockpots. She also told the ladies that noon should use the "water bath open kettle" method of canning vegetables, due to the lack of acid in the vegetables today. Information is available at the Extension Office for canning vegetables, and is free for the asking she said. "The pressure cooker method is the safest way," she said.

Mrs. Case read "As We Walk" for the opening of the business session, and appointed a nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Morter and Mrs. Jean Nisley.

Mrs. Nisley will be the hostess for the April 24 meeting.

Present were Mrs. Case, Mrs. Maurice Sollars, Mrs. Maryon Mark, Mrs. Orville Bush, Mrs. Carlton Belt, Mrs. Walter Sollars, Mrs. Walter Parrett, Mrs. Heber Deer, Mrs. Esther Wilson, Mrs. Nisley, Miss Helen Perrill, Mrs. William E. Still and the hostesses.

Partner dishes with carrots and cabbage

Good, solid cabbages noted for their vitamin C, and also bright, vitamin A-rich carrots are both in the market in good supply now. They make superb partners in main dishes, side dishes and salad. Why not put them together in new ways for your meals?

To buy cabbage of excellent quality, the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association advises, choose those that are reasonably solid and closely trimmed with outer leaves that are green. The stems should be cut close to the head, with only three or four outer or wrapper leaves, and preferably no loose leaves. Cabbage heads with some outer leaves separated from the stem may have undesirably strong flavor and coarse texture so it is important to follow the tips for good quality given here.

Carrots are not only a very appealing vegetable but also one of our richest sources of vitamin A. Did you know that 2-3rds cup of raw carrots can supply over twice the amount of vitamin A needed daily by the average person? Vitamin A, you know, improves vision, particularly at night. Get the full benefit of carrot's rich store of vitamin A by enjoying this golden vegetable in a sprightly Cabbage and Carrot Slaw. It has fresh orange sections to make it lively and different from ordinary slaw.

2 cups shredded pared carrots

In large bowl blend together mayonnaise, sugar, lemon juice, salt and pepper. Add cabbage, carrots and orange sections; mix well. Cover and refrigerate several hours. Makes: 6 servings.

Women discuss Lenten season

Mrs. Clyde Carman entertained the Maple Grove United Methodist Women in her home when the meaning of Good Friday and Palm Sunday was explained by various members. A covered dish luncheon was held at the noon hour and Mrs. Wilbur Chaplin gave the invocation.

Two poems written by Mrs. Mabel B. Ellies were read, and Mrs. Harold Craven presented devotions and told about the Passover. Mrs. Neil Rowland presented a reading and prayer for all missionaries having birthdays in March. The workshop table held a loaf of bread and glass of grape juice, and an open Bible with the Easter passage of Scripture.

The Society posters showing how they relate to the World and Nation by helping with food and medicine, and by teaching children to help by painting buildings at the Camp Grounds, were explained by Mrs. Carey Daugherty. A Retreat is planned for April 12 at Lancaster.

The Society Benediction was reported by all.

Those present for the all-day meeting were Mrs. John Rowland, Mrs. Roy Gilmer, Mrs. Quinn Clarke, Mrs. Carl Rea, Mrs. Daugherty, Mrs. Otis Huff, Mrs. Wilbur Chaplin, Mrs. Marion Dawson, Mrs. Harold Craven, Mrs. Locie Eckle, Mrs. Neil Rowland and the hostess.

Bridge winners

Easter decorations prevailed at the Washington Country Club for the weekly bridge-luncheon held Thursday. Bridge tables and the mantle in the lounge were beautiful with spring flowers and other holiday decor.

Winners of bridge were Mrs. Milbourne Flee, Mrs. Grace Goodwin and Mrs. B.M. Slagle. Hostesses were Mrs. Walter Oswald, Mrs. Harry Thrailkill and Mrs. John Bath.

Youth Activities

WAHANKA KA TA CF

The Wahanka Ka Ta Camp Fire group held a meeting after school on Wednesday. A short business meeting was conducted and we made Easter bunny lapel pins out of felt, and talked about our trip to Pennington Bakery April 9.

Holly Evans and Lee Ann Mattson served refreshments.

NCAA semi action begins

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

SAN DIEGO (AP) — This year's Kentucky basketball team could be the greatest in the school's history. Who says so? No less an authority than Adolph Rupp, who led the Wildcats to four national championships.

"This team is one of the finest teams I have ever seen in my lifetime," said Rupp, "and they could blow out some of my national championship teams."

Hesitant to make comparisons, Rupp nevertheless concedes that the 1974-75 Wildcats have more depth than even his most famous aggregation—the legendary "Fabulous Five" of the 1940s.

"Kevin Grevey is a far better shooter than any we had on that team," the old master noted prior to Saturday's NCAA championship semifinals at the San Diego Arena.

"This Kentucky team is much bigger, more physical. Remember also my 'Fabulous Five' only shot 32 per cent from the field for the season." Joe Hall's team is shooting 52 per cent.

Rupp made his comments Friday while watching Kentucky's muscled team work out in preparation for Saturday's game with Syracuse. UCLA met Louisville in the other semifinal match.

The "Fabulous Five" consisted of Alex Groza at center, Wah Wah Jones and Cliff Barker at forwards and Kenny Rollins and Ralph Beard at guards. They compiled fancy records of 36-3 and 32-2 while winning national titles in 1948 and 1949.

This same team also won an Olympic gold medal for the United States and later joined the National Basketball Association as a unit called the "Indianapolis Olympians." Rupp also won national titles in 1951 and 1958, but none of his other teams were as well-known, nor as well-remembered.

Rupp proclaims that "There's never been a defensive player like Rollins. He was always assigned the hardest of offensive players. And Beard was another one."

But, "The Baron" concedes, "They were not nearly as physical as Kentucky's present two guards—Mike Flynn and Jimmy Dan Connor."

If the "Fabulous Five" and today's Kentucky team played, who would win?

"It would be interesting," says Rupp, "but I wouldn't want to coach that game. I love the kids from both teams. Of all my teams, the 'Fabulous Five' might have the best chance of beating this club. But whether they could would be doubtful."

Bucks bop Trail Blazers

By The Associated Press

"Detroit's got to lose a game," said Milwaukee—Bucks' Coach Larry Costello. "If they do and we win all ours, we're in. If they win them all, we're out. It's that simple."

Detroit plays at Golden State tonight and at home against Chicago next Wednesday. If the Pistons split those two games and Milwaukee wins its last five—including two meetings with the Pistons—both teams would finish with 40-42 records. The Bucks then would earn the wild card playoff berth in the National Basketball Association's Western Conference with a 5-4 edge in the season series.

Friday night, Milwaukee trounced the Portland Trail Blazers 128-105 while Detroit was idle. Elsewhere, the Houston Rockets downed the Cleveland Cavaliers 112-105, the New Orleans Jazz stunned the New York Knicks 111-102, the Boston Celtics defeated the Chicago Bulls 97-92, the Los Angeles Lakers beat the Kansas City-Omaha Kings 114-103, the Seattle SuperSonics shaded the Golden State Warriors 96-92 and the Buffalo Braves turned back the Philadelphia 76ers 115-104.

WOMEN'S CHAMP — Margaret Snyder (center) rolled a 712 series including her handicap to take top women's honors in the annual Bowl Down Cancer Tournament held at Bowland Lanes this month. Verna Williams (left), co-chairman of the tourney, presents the first place plaque. Wanda Taylor (right), Fayette County Cancer Society special events chairman, said the tournament raised $381.00 for the cancer fund.

Colonels beat Squires

By The Associated Press
Artis Gilmore and Louie Dampier, the long and short of the Kentucky

Colonels, are keeping their team in hot pursuit of the front-running New York Nets in the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division race.

The 7-foot-2 Gilmore and 6-foot Dampier combined for 14 points in the third period Friday night as the Colonels broke away from the Virginia Squires en route to a 110-88 victory.

That triumph, combined with the New York Nets' 111-106 loss to the Sounds at Memphis, lifted Kentucky within 1½ games of the Nets—and left them just one game back in the loss column.

FAST AND FURIOUS — That's how the action was in last night's Jaycee tourney semifinal game between Bobb Brothers and K. of C. 624 at the Washington Middle School gym. K. of C. (shirts) came away with 73-69 victory to insure a place in tonight's finals against Harris Auction at 7 o'clock.

Pete Rose proves he's not old yet

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Time marches on, but one bad season does not mean Pete Rose is ready to bow out with a muffed bat.

"I want to prove I'm not old," said the Cincinnati Reds outfielder who vows his career is not on the decline.

Rose has lately been showing signs of his old self.

"No one can tell me that one year after I've had my best season I suddenly have become old," said Rose, who turns 34 next month.

The senior member of the Cincinnati squad has his dander up. To prove a point, he slammed three hits off Jim (Catfish) Hunter in a game this week and collected two more against the Los Angeles Dodgers — last year's nemesis.

"Someday it is going to happen. Someday I'm going to be old. But not now. Not yet," said Rose, who saw his nine-year string of 300 seasons snapped in 1974. His batting average dropped to .284.

The major reason was a 3-for-39 showing against the Dodgers in Los Angeles.

His 34th birthday this year falls on the date — April 14 — the Reds visit Los Angeles. His appearance in left field last year at Dodger Stadium triggered a barrage of garbage and verbal hostilities.

"It may be the first birthday party where the birthday boy gets empty beer cans, apples and other kinds of presents they can throw at me," he said.

Rose has been acting frisky for an "over-the-hill" veteran supposedly marking time.

In one game this spring he scored from third on a muffed throw to the mound. A single was stretched into a double on another occasion. And a well-executed bluff forced an unnecessary throw during another game.

Tigers stop Reds, 7-4

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The Detroit Tigers pummeled starter Gary Nolan and two relievers for 18 hits en route to a 7-4 exhibition baseball victory over the Cincinnati Reds Friday night.

Willie Horton and Nute Colbert teamed for seven hits and four runs-batted-in as the Tigers notched their eighth triumph against 15 losses.

Horton collected three singles, one driving in a run, and a solo homer. Colbert singled in a run, doubled in another and added another single.

Mike Ernest sues for half of pay

CINCINNATI (AP) — Former Cincinnati Bengals quarterback Mike Ernest contends the National Football League club still owes him half of his $17,000-a-year salary and he's taking the matter to court.

Ernest, who was dropped by the team hours after he was charged with possession of a narcotic in December, filed suit Friday. He is asking for $8,500 he says the Bengals failed to pay him.

Knights meet Harris for 1st

Knights of Columbus post 624 beat tough Superior Carpet and Bobb Brothers in Jaycee tournament action last night at the Washington Middle School to gain a spot in the tourney finals against unbeaten Harris Auction of Greenfield.

The two teams will square off tonight at 7 o'clock with a 9 o'clock game following should K. of C. 624 beat Harris in the first game. At 6 p.m. a biddy basketball game featuring the Eastside Elementary Fifth Graders and the Middle School Sixth Graders will kickoff the tourney action. Doors will open at 5 p.m. and tickets are 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children under twelve.

Superior Carpet nipped Mt. Orab in the night's first contest, 90-85. Phil Snow hit on a number of long jumpers to lead Superior with 34 points and Junior Rollings added 20. Keith Prater hit 18 for Mt. Orab in the closely fought ball game.

Superior had to play in the 7:30 contest against K. of C. 624, but the Knights from Springfield ran in 106 points to eliminate Superior and move into the semifinal game against Bobb Brothers out of Leesburg. Tom Cooney had 33 points for Post 624 for the victory.

Bobb Brothers kept fighting back to make the night's final game close but the previous game didn't seem to wear K. of C. out much as they posted a close 73-69 victory to move into the finals.

Paul Brown led K. of C. with 26 points in the final contest with five Bobb Brothers players hitting in double figures in dropping from the tourney.

Jack Nicklaus back, Johnny Miller gone

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — Jack's back and Johnny's gone.

Jack Nicklaus, challenged by Johnny Miller's gaudy exploits of the last year or so, responded with one of the most outstanding efforts of his unmatched career Friday, a nearperfect, eight-under-par 63.

"It's a better round than the (record) 64 at Augusta," Nicklaus said, comparing his effort against the 1965 round that matched the record in the Masters.

"This is a tougher course than Augusta."

And, while Nicklaus was stretching his lead to six shots halfway through the $200,000 Heritage Classic, Miller quietly abandoned this resort island off the South Carolina coast.

He was a victim of the 36-hole cut. The young man who was the defending champion here, who had won three early season tournaments, who had startled the golfing world with his record-smashing heroics in Arizona, failed to qualify for the final two rounds. He shot 151 for 36 holes—an incredible 22 strokes in back of Nicklaus.

It was the first time he had failed to make the cut since the 1973 Canadian Open.

"No excuses," said Johnny. "I just played lousy."

Nicklaus' 63, which gave him a two-round total of 129, 13-under-par, was two strokes away from the 61s Miller scored in Tucson and Phoenix earlier this season. But the courses and conditions don't compare.

Americans use less electricity

By LOUISE COOK

Associated Press Writer

In January 1974, the average residential customer of Florida Power & Light used 833 kilowatt hours of electricity and had a monthly bill of $24.98.

This January, the same customer used 799 kilowatt hours and paid $31.62. The amount of electricity used decreased by 4 per cent; the bill increased by 27 per cent. The base rate stayed the same, but the so-called fuel adjustment charge went from $1.83 to $8.47—up 363 per cent.

The Florida situation is typical of what's happening across the country: Americans are using less electricity and paying more.

An Associated Press sampling showed electric bills have risen sharply in every area of the country, with most of the increase due to fuel adjustment charges which reflect higher prices paid by the utilities for oil, coal and natural gas.

The rate of increase varies sharply, from less than 10 per cent in some of the Western states to more than 100 per cent in Vermont, which, like other New England areas, is heavily dependent on expensive, imported crude oil. The average increase is about 25 or 30 per cent. That compares with an 11.1 per cent increase in all retail prices from February 1974 to February 1975, according to the latest Consumer Price Index.

Sens. Lee Metcalf of Montana and Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, both Democrats, reported over the weekend that a survey they took showed the nation's utility bills increased $9.6 billion last year. They estimated that two-thirds of the jump came in the form of fuel adjustment increases, most passed on to the consumer automatically.

State and federal authorities already are investigating claims that utilities may have been overcharged millions of dollars for oil and that farmers paid more than they should have for propane gas.

The AP sampling of utilities in 30 states showed rate increases have been granted in the past year or are currently pending in all but two states. In one of the two, Mississippi, a proposed increase was rejected; no boost has been approved or suggested in Louisiana.

Officials in almost every area said customers were continuing conservation measures started last year at the height of the energy crisis. In many cases, however, the major impetus for the saving drive is money rather than the energy shortage.

"People are still mindful of conservation and they're very aware of the higher costs of energy," said a spokesman for Public Service Electric & Gas Co. of New Jersey.

Public Service said the current charge for 500 kilowatt hours of electricity is $26.44, covering a $17.26 base rate and a $9.18 fuel adjustment. The bill is 25.7 per cent higher than it was a year ago when there was a $16.49 base rate and a $4.54 fuel adjustment charge for 500 kilowatt hours of electricity.

Over the year, there was a 5 per cent increase in the base rate and a 102 per cent increase in the fuel adjustment charge.

The rate increases have touched off strong consumer protests in some areas. The Department of Public Utilities in Virginia added two employees to help handle a flood of complaining telephone calls.

"The volume had reached the point where our engineers were spending too much time handling them," said a spokesman.

About 30 protesters in Fairfax County, Va., picketed the home of William F. Vosbeck Jr., a member of the board of the Virginia Electric & Power Co.

The company, known as VEPCO, was granted rate increases totaling $126 million in 1974 and a request for another boost is pending with the State Corporation Commission.

The average VEPCO residential customer paid $22.83 for 750 kilowatt hours of electricity in May 1974. The current charge for the same amount is $28.85—a 26 per cent increase. If the latest increase proposal is approved, the bill for 750 kilowatt hours would go to $29.57, up almost 30 per cent from last May.

The situation generally has been better in the West, particularly in those areas where there is no automatic increase reflecting fuel adjustment charges.

The average customer of the Cheyenne, Wyo., Light, Fuel and Power Co. used 518 kilowatt hours in January 1974 and paid $11.55. The average customer this year used 542 kilowatt hours and paid $12.36. That's a jump of about 4½ per cent in the amount of electricity used and a rise of about 7 per cent in the bill, reflecting an increase in the base rate that took effect last March.

Pacific Gas and Electric, serving northern California, has not raised its base rate in the past year, although requests for increases in regular charges and fuel adjustment fees are pending.

Five hospitals flunk checkup

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five Medicare hospitals in Ohio must submit to annual inspections in the future after government inspection teams flunked the centers following checks for health and safety deficiencies last year.

The five were among 68 hospitals which were found deficient when inspection teams examined various hospitals around the nation.

The hospitals which lost their deemed status, according to the Social Security Administration, are St. Rita's hospital, Lima; Wilson Memorial hospital, Sidney; C. F. Kettering Memorial hospital, Kettering; Piqua Memorial hospital, Piqua; and Mercy Memorial hospital, Urbana.

Common problems uncovered in the spot checks were the lack of smoke barriers in corridors, devices to close doors automatically in the presence of smoke or flames, fire-resistant construction, automatic sprinkler systems, regular fire drills and non-flammable curtains and carpets, the administration says.

Fisher plant sets recall

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — A personnel director has announced 55 more workers will return to the Fisher Body stamping plant here Monday.

That means 100 workers who were furloughed will have gone back to work this month at the General Motors plant which now employs 1,740.

Another 910 workers are still on furlough from the plant.

New Bremen man to head OFBF

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Wallace Hirschfeld of New Bremen has been elected president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

Hirschfeld will fill the unexpired term of Leonard Schnell of Apple Creek who resigned to accept a nomination to the Nationwide Insurance Co. board of directors.

Hirschfeld, 52, will serve until December. He operates a 400-acre hog and grain farm.

A column several months ago on the use of solar energy in private homes generated such readership interest that I decided to do even more research on the subject.

In the course of my investigation, I was directed to a house in Connecticut on the shore of Long Island that actually utilizes solar energy. It is a three-bedroom, contemporary-style house with 1,900 square feet of living area. It won an honor award citation in 1974 from the Connecticut Society of Architects. Thomas Watson designed it; engineer Everett Barber handled the solar heating system. Both men are on the faculty at Yale University, where they teach solar technology and energy conservation.

A quick glance at the house offered immediate evidence

Stomach Cancer and Refrigeration

A thorough evaluation of the study of cancer of the stomach is being approached from an interesting angle.

Dr. John H. Weisburger, of the Naylor Dana Institute for Disease Prevention, made an interesting observation. He believes that refrigeration of foods can explain why cancer of the stomach has been so markedly reduced in the United States.

This conclusion is based on the fact that in countries where refrigeration has been used for a long time, the frequency of cancer of the stomach is far less than in those countries that have only recently begun to use refrigeration.

It is Dr. Weisburger's contention that refrigeration prevents a chemical change (from nitrate to nitrite) and reduces the possibility of cancer.

A much more complicated chemical explanation is available, but in essence this is the basic principle.

At the present time this hypothesis is still speculative. Dr. Weisburger's studies will be further tested by himself and other research workers in order to better understand and, perhaps, to control the frequency of cancer of the stomach.

Many pills are coated with a substance known as "polymer." Dr. Gilbert S. Banker, of Purdue University, uses such a coating to control with accuracy the amount of acid in the stomach. This substance can keep antacids in the stomach and thus control acidity.

The great value of this technique will be for people who have ulcers of the stomach. The concentration of acid in this condition is vital for the alleviation of symptoms for its control and cure.

Maternity patients and some surgical patients are being given a pleasant tasting, pink colored antacid.

This reduces the amount of acid in the stomach and prevents the possibility of inhaling stomach contents during anesthesia.

The result is that fewer patients have developed infections of the lung known as "pneumonitis."

Dr. R. Bryan Roberts and Dr. Michael A. Shirley are using this technique, which for years has been enthusiastically tried in England.

It is believed that the antacid drink may be used in many more types of surgery to further reduce complications after operations.

DR. LESTER COLEMAN has a special eye-care booklet available titled, "What You Should Know About Glaucoma and Cataracts." For your copy, send 25 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lester L. Coleman, M.D. (Eye booklet), P.O. Box 5178, Grand Central Station, New York City 10017. Bridge Corner

By GEORGE MALEK

Bruce Strickling of Frankfort finished in third place Tuesday night with his partner, Mrs. Craig Vandemark, to capture the winter trophy for outstanding participation at the Washington Duplicate Bridge Club. Although Dr. K.K. Burris of Greenfield, who finished tied for fifth place Tuesday, had the same number of total points for the three-month tournament span, he played two times less often than Strickling.

In case of ties, the player participating the greater number of times is declared the winner, and Strickling will receive the recognition plaque. He and Mrs. Vandemark were the only two club members to play in all 12 weekly sessions during the three-month period.

Dr. Burris held a slim two-point lead prior to Tuesday's game at the Washington Inn, but Strickling's higher finish was just enough to tie their scores and capture the award. Each finished with a total of 116 points.

Mrs. Margaret Burris, the doctor's wife, finished third in the competition, and earned the distinction of having a higher score per session than any other member. She played one less time than her husband and finished with 110 points.

The plaque will be presented to Strickling just prior to next Tuesday's game which marks the first session of the spring competition. The spring term will continue through April, May and June.

Mrs. J.C. Wright, director, invites all area bridge players to participate at the club. She notes that the game is open and no prior reservation need be made. Games begin at 7:30 p.m., and she requests that all players arrive at least 10 minutes earlier so that the game may start promptly.

Big potato giveaway slated as protest of low prices

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Idaho potato farmers plan a giveaway of 100,000 pounds of potatoes in a parking lot today, continuing a protest of low prices that started with a four hour free-for-all in Boise, Idaho.

"I love baked potatoes every morning and french fries any time we want them," said Martin Evans, a young Idaho father who went home with an 80-pound sack from the Boise giveaway on Friday.

He was among scores of people who brought plastic bags, gunny sacks, cardboard boxes and garbage cans for the handout.

In addition to the protest, farmers have been dumping two million pounds of potatoes a day — either by feeding them to cattle or unloading them in remote areas — to ease the surplus, said Del Ray Holm, a protest leader. He said the nationwide surplus has been estimated at 2 billion pounds.

Salt Lake City Mayor Conrad Harrison said he gave permission for the giveaway here but asked that it be in the parking lot near the police station in case there were crowd-control problems.

The farmers want the government to send dehydrated potatoes for the needy in Asia and Africa. Holm said Agriculture officials "asked us to produce more last year to feed a starving world, and we're going broke as a result."

Holm said the farmer gets about $1.25 per hundredweight for No. 1 potatoes that are being sold for 25 cents per pound in Salt Lake City stores. Supermarkets have advertised some potatoes for as low as 10 pounds for 39 cents.

NEW HOLLAND — Services for Mrs. Ida Ankrom, 81, of 234 S. Main St., New Holland, will be held at 1:30 p.m. Monday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home, New Holland.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Clarence (Helen) Roberts of New Holland; six sons, Everett, Wilbur and Gene of Columbus, Joe of New Holland, David 536 Warren Ave., Washington C.H., and Bobby, 613 Warren Ave., Washington C.H.; 13 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Wood of Frankfort, and Mrs. Alice Stoker of New Holland.

The Rev. Richard McDowell will officiate at the services and burial will be in New Holland Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 3 p.m. Sunday.

Rock Island line to run until May

CHICAGO (AP) — The Rock Island Lines, after receiving financial aid on two fronts, has agreed to keep rolling until May.

Although the railroad had planned to stop shipments April 12, a Rock Island attorney agreed Friday at a bankruptcy hearing before U.S. District Court Judge Frank McGarr to keep the line running.

Evans said his 80-pound sack should feed himself and 10 relatives for more than a week and at the same time help Idaho.

"This might show some other states that instead of riots and burning, there are other ways to do things and accomplish some good things in the process," he said.

The farmers originally planned to burn the potatoes. Idaho Gov. Cecil Andrus asked that they be given to the poor.
